

Elizabeth's Girlhood Happy, Busy; Wins Duke's Heart

Gravely peering out from a firm stance in her high-chair, this little Scotch lassie certainly had no idea that she was one day to be a queen.

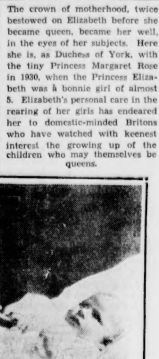

Lovely long dark hair was a feature of the girlhood beauty of Elizabeth, at 5, as in the top picture and the years just before her marriage, lower photo.

The big day in every woman's life, even a queen's! Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon leaves her father's house for her wedding in Westminster Abbey.

Even a seven-pound New Zealand salmon trout knows its place when the Duchess of York goes fishing. It's at the end of a gaff. Note the informal garb.

LONDON, Dec. 26.—Lady Elizabeth was brought up in the best and happiest aspect of English country life. Except for a couple of brief terms at a London day-school, all her childhood was closely linked to the rural life of St. Paul's Waldenbury in Hertfordshire, tucked away in the quiet of the Hertfordshire hills, and the dream of bees over the clipped yew hedges.

There were alluring woods, too, as there were also at Glamis where the earl and his family went for a day each year.

It was her youngest brother David who was Elizabeth's special playmate in forests into ferns, ferns and hystacks, and in charades and games or recitations in the evenings.

The talent for entertaining developed young, and many visitors were much impressed by the facility with which the little lady, three or four managed to engage them in conversation at tea.

Education was by private tutor at home, and progressed rapidly, with the typical continental course, which included foreign languages, music and dancing.

WAR CAME CLOSE

Let it not be forgotten, however, that Lady Elizabeth, like the sons of the King himself, was a child of the war years. Her mother, the Queen Mary, was born in 1867, the year of the Fourth of August, 1914, that Elizabeth as in a London theatre with her mother and brothers and heard the news that war had been declared.

Within a few days, her four older brothers, Patrick, John, Michael and Fergus, were all in the front line. Fergus died at Loos, and Michael was badly shot up, and was invalided home after a long stay in a German hospital.

Immediately Glamis Castle was turned into a convalescent home for the healing of the broken bodies that began to stream back from the fields of France. Ward coats were installed in the dining room, and a soldier's mess maintained in the ancient crypt where armorial figures suggested Machin himself looked down on the weary battle-torn soldiers.

FIRE THREATENS CASTLE

Elizabeth was, of course, too young to do any actual nursing, but she knitted garments for the soldiers, talked with and entertained them with singing and music, helped them write their letters, and a thousand and one things that helped them through the weary weeks of convalescence.

Once during this period, Glamis took fire, and Elizabeth was one of those who helped direct the inadequate fire brigade from nearby Fernie and Dundee. Though only 16 at the time, she took an active hand in removing art treasures and other valuables from the threatened castle.

It was not until mid-1919 that the last of the wounded soldiers, health restored, left the castle, and brother Michael was at last repatriated from Germany, his health incompletely restored by two years of confinement in a German hospital camp.

ACTIVE IN GIRLS' WORK

This four-year experience served to foster somewhat the sense of duty in the girl of the country. Elizabeth, as a formal "coming out" in 1921, was "not done" in those days. Because her sister, Lady Rose, had married during the war, Lady Elizabeth became her mother's chief assistant in running the extensive domestic side of the early affairs.

Journeys to London were more frequent, however, and the Forthright Girl Guides took a great deal of her attention. And when the Princess Mary visited in the neighborhood, her presence and that in the Girl Guides formed a common link in the lives of the royal family.

Elizabeth, who is now King, was absent at that time.

THREE PROPOSALS

It was shortly after this that Elizabeth was one of the white-and-silver bridesmaids at the wedding of the Princess Royal in Westminster Abbey to Viscount Lascelles. Two short journeys to Paris were her only trips outside the British Isles.

Her friendship with the royal family firmly established in the public mind, Lady Elizabeth was one of the popular objects of speculation when the British public took part in its chief recreation that of suggesting a mate for the then Prince of Wales. But the Duke of York had a different view of the situation.

One Sunday while he was again a visitor to St. Paul's Waldenbury the young couple did not go to church, but walked instead in the woods where Elizabeth had so often played as a child.

When the duke returned to London on Monday, he had news for his royal parents. It is generally believed in Britain that he had to ask three times for the hand of Lady Elizabeth before she was convinced that he really loved her and was not simply being driven by parental or public pressure. He then accepted the burden of the duke's public responsibilities would be only natural. But three times or once, the engagement was announced in the Court Circular Jan. 16, 1923.

The following week she motored to Sandringham to receive the royal wedding, which was gladly given.

WEDDING IS IMPRESSIVE

The wedding was held on the following April 26, with all the pomp of royalty.

As she entered the Abbey, the bride paused for a moment to lay her hand on the grave of the Unknown Warrior. Then she advanced down the dim aisle as the sun broke through the stained-glass windows of the historical Abbey. The Prince of Wales handed over the ring to his brother, Albert, and the Archbishop of Canterbury followed the vows with solemn words: "ye yourselves as simple man and maid."

He consecrated the couple to the public service, and concluding the ceremony, he said: "God's love overshadow you. His power protect you. His spirit guide you. His peace unfold you."

MEDIC OFFERS NEW IDEA IN WEDDED LIFE

Go To School Until 30 He Says, and Marry At 50

British United Press

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Dec. 26.—School till the age of 30 and marriage at 50 may be the design for living for the average man of the future, according to Dr. Edgar Booth, lecturer in physics at Sydney University.

"Science has so arranged matters," he declares, "that grandfather now stays on and manages the business—and draws the manager's salary—so that his grandson cannot afford to marry and his nephew cannot get employment."

We must decide, later that grandfather, even if in private and play bowls or spend his time in motorcycle racing, if he prefers it. After reaching sixty or we might think that the grandfather, having been promised and, by then practically guaranteed a healthy and virile life to the age of sixty, might equally be guaranteed a compulsory but painless departure from that existence at that age.

There are obvious objections to this particularly from grandfather, who generally controls money and, consequently, the situation.

Dr. Booth offered a suggestion for the solution of the problem in the protection by scientists of a son or daughter, or perhaps a son or daughter, to be still schoolboy at that age and to defer the responsibilities of marriage until he is fifty.

Squirrel Cause Short Circuit

CHIANG ALOOF AS REDS CRY FIGHT JAPAN!

Generalissimo Is Cold To Plan For United Front In Military Power

TIENTSIN, Dec. 26.—The proposal for a "United Front" against the Japanese is receiving the support of Leftist organizations and Red armies in China, but Gen. Chiang Kai-shek is ice cold toward the plan.

So far he has indicated that he will not accept the support of the Communist armies in fighting Japan and, conversely, will not accept the support of the Japanese army in fighting Communists.

Communists for many months have offered to forget their differences with the Central Government and the Kuomintang to fight the Japanese. Under the aegis of "Popular Front," patriotic intellectual organizations, student groups and others increasingly have urged the generalissimo to accept the Red proposal.

NORTHWEST MORE RESTLESS

The anti-Japanese sentiment in the Northwest—Kansu, Shensi, Shansi and Suiyuan provinces—is daily growing more intense and the old Manchurian army under "The Young Marshal," Chang Hsueh-liang, is growing more restless.

They are demanding orders to fight our way back to our homes in Manchuria.

On his visit to Sian recently, the generalissimo was urged on all sides to make peace with the Communists in the northwest corner of China and to consolidate all his efforts toward resisting Japan.

The old Manchurian army is tired of fighting Communists, according to the most reliable reports. In fact, they are no longer fighting them but are fraternizing with the Red forces and even surreptitiously supplying them with arms and supplies. Central government troops in the Northwest are the only military units resisting the Communists in that section of the country today.

200,000 RED TROOPS

There are 200,000 Communist troops who are offering to lay aside all political and ideological differences and join in a national defense campaign. Gen. Chang Hsueh-liang's troops number about 100,000 and Japanese reports say that 23 divisions of Nanking troops have been sent to the northwest during the past two months.

The situation is precarious from many angles. The Reds are fighters and they have a spirit not possessed by any other military force in China, but they are handicapped by lack of regular supplies and modern equipment. They are virtually knocking at the gates of Lanchow, capital of Kansu where Gen. Yu Hsueh-chung sets his government and commander of the Red forces. Gen. Yu is more bitter toward the Japanese than the Communists. It was the Japanese military who ousted him from the chairmanship of Hopei province, and there is no doubt that he would be willing to fight side by side with the Reds the moment the situation of the generalissimo.

JOIN ADDITION TO THE RED menace is the threat of invasion from Chahar by Japanese-inspired "Manchukuo" troops under the command of Gen. Wang Ying and Gen. Li Shao-chi, to cut the main line for a large-scale drive into Suiyuan, which territory they hope to include in the autonomous Mongolian regime.

Sunday Cone Eating Banned

CALGARY, Dec. 26.—A winter edict that may have its repercussions next summer was handed down by the Alberta Appeal court here. The court ruled that eating Sunday cones, under an interpretation of the Lord's Day Act, to eat ice cream cones on Calgary streets during the Sabbath day. It is legal to eat cones on a Sunday, but they must be "consumed on the premises."

$6,000,000 Fighting Ships for Canada

Canada's new defence policy and armament programs are causing considerable speculation even in sources close to the government. Great secrecy apparently surrounds what Canada has been committed to in imperial defence and what her plan is for national defence. One more official announcement was the purchase of two new destroyers from Great Britain to replace two obsolete ships, the Vancouver and Champlain, both of which will be scrapped. The two new destroyers, of the same class as the HMCS Skeena, which will be retained, will be delivered late in this year. According to "The Fighting Ship" in which is listed practically every fighting ship in the world, these destroyers cost in the neighborhood of $4,000,000. The value of construction in the current year will be only about one-twelfth of normal. The population of the country, however, the survey points out, is approximately 18 per cent larger than it was in 1926. For per capita Canadian income and purchasing power, however, it is equal to that of 1926. The total would have to show an increase of 18 per cent. This statement, however, is based on the assumption of the price level was equal to that of 1926. The survey concludes that with both wholesale and retail price levels close to 1926, there cannot be a wide margin of error in stating that the general price level in Canada is about 75 to 80 per cent of the price level of 1926.

And from these facts, the survey said, it follows that if the country could afford to spend $250,000,000 as large as that in 1926, the purchasing power would be about the same as it was in the base year.

YEAR'S INCOME UP 16 PERCENT. FOR CANADIANS

Royal Bank Survey Shows 1936 Level To Be 50 Per Cent. of Normal

WINNIPEG, Man., Dec. 26.—The income of Canadians in 1936 will be between 80 and 85 per cent of normal, the latest survey of the Royal Bank of Canada reveals.

The income, the survey will show, will increase of about 16 per cent over 1935, the estimate making allowance for changes in the price level and for the rate of increases in production.

The survey likewise made comparisons with 1926. Total income from mines for the present year will be 50 per cent of normal of the mining industry of 1926.

Manufacturing income will be approximately equal to that of 1926 and the income of the electric power industry will be double that of the year.

On the other hand, the most serious decline in basic production is that in agriculture, where 1936 income is likely to fall short of 1926 by about $600,000,000. The value of construction in the current year will be only about one-twelfth of normal.

The population of the country, however, the survey points out, is approximately 18 per cent larger than it was in 1926. Capitol Presents New Comedy Hit Starring McHugh And Blondell

At Capitol

"Three Men on a Horse," which as a stage play is now well into its second year on Broadway and still going strong—and which has toured the country in seven road shows is playing at the Capitol today and Monday.

There is a grand cast headed by Frank McHugh and Joan Blondell. McHugh, whose last Broadway show was playing at the Capitol today and Monday, has made millions of laughs for the last six years. He is out in "Three Men on a Horse," a comedy which has been running for over a year on Broadway. He keeps to himself his weird gift of picking the winner in horse races. He has a book in which he notes his prognostications and is invariably winning—until his wife finds it—and thinks he is impostor.

WEEPY WIFE
Carol Hughes has the role of Owen's weepy wife. His boss, Cervere—played by Guy Kibbee with bald and blond pompadour—has one day ordered Owen to go to his job. Owen's wife, who is in a desperate mood, has been in the kitchen and bawled—drown his troubles in drink.

Three fast overtake him.

SMALL-TIME GANGSTERS

A nearby table has three small-time gamblers—played with rough-neck bravado by Allen Jenkins, Toddy Hart and Sam. They are later two from the Broadway stage production. They are discussing the scene and the limit. Owen, who is a gambler, gives them a tip on the winner. They give him the laugh, and bet on their own favorite. They lose. They give Owen's unassuming gift after several other tries—and without making his personal impression. Joan, best girl of one of the boys, guards him. When he goes to his job, he is in a great consternation, calls up about her husband—and when Currier informs her he is sick—calls the police and a city-wide search is begun.

Then begins a merry mixing as ever at an audience chortling.

STRANGE KISS COLLEGE FILM

The strangest setting for a kiss in Hollywood history was used for production of "College Kiss."

Girls have been kissed in pictures in airplanes, automobiles, walking, sitting and so forth, but this time the script writers caused the camera to stretch his hand to the camera script called for Martha Kent and Lita Ekman to drive into a kiss and kiss under water.

GREAT CAST OF RADIO PLAYERS, BIG BROADCAST

Jack Benny Has Leading Role in Film to Show at Empress

One of the greatest casts of radio headlines ever assembled to make a motion picture will be seen and heard at the Empress for three days commencing Monday when Paramount's "The Big Broadcast of 1937" is shown. Adding and setting the all-star air line-up will be some of the screen's best performers plus a number of well-known personalities recruited from the stage to add to the general merit.

BENNY HEADS CAST

The cast for "The Big Broadcast of 1937" is headed by popular Jack Benny and includes George Burns and Gracie Allen, Bob Burns, Benny Fields, Martha Raye, Benny Goodman and his Swing Orchestra, Leoold Stokowski and his Symphony Orchestra, Frank Forest, Sam Harem (Schlegel), and many others. Heading the celebrities from the stage is Stan Kavanagh, internationally famous comedy singer. Kavanagh, who has been known by a generation of vaudeville and circus patrons, never speaks but he gets a bit part in a radio program in the picture. This program is arranged by Gracie Allen, so anything can happen.

FIRST IMPORTANT ROLE

"The Big Broadcast of 1937" has been produced on a lavish scale and is considered by Hollywood to be one of the most gorgeous spectacles ever produced there. The dancing routines were directed by Lelloy Frits.

LORETTA YOUNG AT DREAMLAND

Winning a bet from Loretta Young in her last picture. Her creditors never know what from the payment will take.

Having won ten dollars on a bet from Loretta, Beverly Marley, came to the picture.

When Mickey reaches the top he neglects his wife for the "elegance" of high society. The story social pace, plus a growing fear that his handsome fiancée might be mailed in the ring, starts him on the road from home. He finally winds up broken, discouraged and embittered when he finds society is though with him.

His plucky wife, however, tricks Mickey into fighting again in an effort to restore his courage and self-respect. The film boasts many authentic ring battles, staged with several of the leading Pacific Coast boxing champions.

Supporting the leading players are George McKay and Thurston Hall. George Willis directed.

GENE AUTRY BACK

Leonard Pack, one of the most colorful characters of Texas and the border country, makes his screen debut in the first Gene Autry musical special which is the Autry musical feature.

Pack, who is a descendant of the famous Texas Rangers, and has been a part of the organization for forty years, was in charge of policing the Texas Centennial grounds.

No Romance

Until his latest production, "John Menck's Women," Edward Arnold spent thirty years on the stage and screen, without once having a romantic scene containing the word, "I Love You."

Writing Comedy

Eddie Moran today was signed to write the picture in order to spend the money. Just last week a ten dollar bill paid off by Loretta to Director Roy Del Ruth was made with a canvas sack containing 1,000 pennies.

RADIO PLAYERS SCORE HEAVILY IN HOLLYWOOD

Motion Pictures Having Luck in Search for New Talent

Motion pictures, frantically conducting a search for new talent, are at last having luck in the radio field, it was revealed in Hollywood today.

After offering a series of personalities who were definite "flops" on the screens of America, the air lines are now competing with Broadway and the "little theatre" as a source of material.

Within the past year Nelson Eddy, Gladys Swarthout, Frank Forest, Dorothy Lamour, Jack Benny, Burns and Allen and Bob Burns, to mention a few, have found their niches in the film colony.

RECENTLY PICKED

Miss Lamour, latest to be selected, was a sustaining artist on a national circuit and singing with orchestras. She is now working with Carol Lombard in Paramount's "Swing High, Swing Low" after doing a lead in "The Jungle Princess."

Jack Benny, ranked as Number One Man of the air three days, has acquired himself well in "The Big Broadcast of 1937" and is now in "College Holiday" with Burns and Allen. Martha Raye and Bob Burns, starting at scratch in "Rhythm on the Range," are ranking second.

"College Holiday" and Burns is scheduled to work with Bing Crosby, by first radio entrance to really "shine" in pictures in "Waikiki Wedding." Both are heading for stardom.

TO CONTINUE

Joe Cook is acquiring himself well in "Arizona Matinee." Joe Penner is under contract, duck and all, James Kellen is at Twentieth Century-Fox, Eddie Cantor, who is now one of the topnotchers of radio, is with Samuel Goldwyn. Frank Forest and Gladys Swarthout, both with famous voices, are in Paramount's "Champagne Waltz."

Nelson Eddy brought out some time in MGM after radio success, made screen history with Jeanette MacDonald in "Naughty Marietta" and "Rose Marie." Paramount has announced definitely that the "Big Broadcast" series of productions will be continued for the time being.

"The Big Broadcast of 1937," which was packed with radio personalities, even to Leopold Stokowski, who built up his national reputation by directing his orchestra for a national audience.

Decision to have Miss Swarthout present personally for "Champagne Waltz" in which Fred MacMurray is costarring, followed selection of the film as Paramount's Silver Jubilee production because of its international appeal.

During the Silver Jubilee ceremonies marking Adolph Zukor's twenty-fifth anniversary with the company, he is scheduled next January 7 and continuing for 17 weeks. Mr. Zukor will give a signal which will open premiere showings of the picture in the capitals of the world.

Jackie Cooper, 14, "too old" for movies, is doing a series of three-act radio dramas for radio distribution for $10,000.

Three Of Most Famous Boys In Films Teamed In Picture At Strand

For the first time, three of the most famous boys in motion pictures are teamed in the same screen story. They are Freddie Bartholomew, Jackie Cooper and Mickey Rooney.

The new picture "The Devil is a Sissy" based upon an original story by Rowland Brown, came to the Strand theatre today for a two day showing.

"The Devil is a Sissy" is the story of three boys who become inseparable pals, and, strangely enough, feature three boys who are born companions in real life.

Freddie Bartholomew plays his English lad who meets his unusual companions by visiting his father's studio on New York's East Side.

William LeBaron, managing director of production today announced the signing of a contract with Stuart Walker as an associate producer with the company.

Jackie Cooper's role is that of one of an executed convict, while Mickey Rooney portrays another juvenile product of the sidewalks of New York.

Despite the wide chasm of society that usually separates wealthy children from those of the slums, "The Devil is a Sissy" emphasizes that neither creed nor race can keep apart boys of different social strata when their lives and friendships are so closely woven together.

Will 'Flo' Rice Be As Famous As Sports Loving Father?

A BURNING desire to make a name for herself in her own right took sports-loving Florence Rice to Hollywood where she has already made good.

Beautiful and intelligent, it used to irk the 25-year-old screen luminary to hear people say: "That attractive girl is a daughter of the famous sport writer, Grantland Rice." Florence determined that this "Grantland Rice's daughter" identification method should stop. She decided that there was no way to stop it—to become famous in her own right.

The charming girl set her heart on Hollywood after attending a New York City dramatic school and playing in several eastern productions. Her last Broadway appearance was in "She Loves Me Not."

On the stage Florence or "Flo" enacted a wide variety of roles, ranging from light comedy to heavy tragedy. While she has been cast in many comedy parts, she readily confesses a preference for sympathetic, meaty characterizations.

Florence had many screen offers and was finally signed by Columbia in June, 1934. She was first cast in "The Captain Hates the Sea," but illness necessitated her withdrawal. Since then she has appeared in "Fugitive Lady," opposite Neil Hamilton and Donald Cook, and in "The Best Man Wins" with Edmund Lowe and Jack Holt.

Fox studios liked her work so well that she was borrowed for a feminine lead opposite Lowe and Victor McLaglen in "East River."

Florence inherited a great love for sports events. She likes polo as a spectator, tennis and golf as a participant. She likes to read, her favorite books including "Of Human Bondage," "Dusty Answer," "Green Mansions," and "The Green Bay Tree."

Unlike most movie actresses, Florence doesn't like to spend money on clothes. They are her pet economy. Her great extravagance is travel. She owns her own car and drives it herself.

Florence speaks Spanish and a little French. She has blue eyes, brown hair, is 5 feet 4 1/2 inches tall, weighs 108 pounds.

Her favorite food is Swedish hors d'oeuvres, while between meal snacks consist of sherry and peanuts. Before retiring she likes to nibble cheese and crackers.

Although her famous father, dean of American sports writers, is even today gaining in popularity, Florence is waiting for the day when someone will say, "What fellow is Florence Rice's father?"

Two-Fisted

who appears with June Clayworth, a newcomer to the screen in "Two-Fisted Gentleman" which opened at the Rialto theatre today for a three-day run.

PRINCESS GETS HISTORIC FILM

Mary of Scotland has been the subject for more than a dozen biographies and discussions than any other woman in history, according to Stefan Zweig, noted writer and biographer.

Seven stage dramas, including one of the famous Friedrich von Schiller and others by D. W. Haeffliger, J. H. Murnau, F. A. C. Swinburn and Maxwells, have been written about the glorious woman who became a Queen of Scotland when she was six years old.

Sending the perennial interest in the colorful career of this Queen of Scots, RKO Radio decided to film the queen's career and selected Dudley Nichols, one of Hollywood's foremost screen writers, to adapt Maxwell Anderson's play, "Mary of Scotland."

Katharine Hepburn and Frederic March are co-starring in the picture, which is directed by John Ford.

Miss Hepburn and March are supported by a featured cast including Florence Edridge, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and "The Green Bay Tree."

Douglas Fairbanks' pen name is "Kiln Thomas."

Artist Reveals Beauty Points Of Film Stars

Ann Southern has the most voluptuous lips in Hollywood. Eugene Whitney, brilliant young dancer now in "College Holiday," has the loveliest eyes.

Gladys Swarthout gives the greatest co-operation to makeup men.

Taking her face as a whole, Charlotte Wyndham, appearing with Edward Everett Horton in Paramount's "Let's Make a Million," requires less makeup than any other actress.

Martha Hunt has the cutest upturned nose.

Olympic Bradna is pretty now, but she'll get prettier with the passing years.

Arline Judge needs little makeup. Carole Lombard knows more about bringing out her excellent points than any other actress.

Joan Crawford has made the greatest strides in beauty through the use of makeup in the past ten years.

Dorothy Lamour, of "The Jungle Princess," has the most beautiful hair, it being 28 inches long.

These are the opinions of New York John, famous Hollywood makeup man and artist.

ACTRESS GIVES HERSELF REWARD

As a reward to herself for her work in "Easy To Take," in which she is featured with John Howard, Dorothy Lamour, who is rapidly approaching stardom, has purchased a house in Westwood, California. It was disclosed today at the same time the picture was released.

Miss Hunt and her mother will be the new home, which is surrounded by an acre of ground immediately.

"Our Gang" Veteran

Johnny Downs, who is teamed with Elizabeth Whitney in "College Holiday," is a veteran actor despite his youth. He first appeared in "Our Gang" comedies and then toured in vaudeville for several years.

Dixie Dunbar, the half-pint screen dancer, has signed an affidavit denying the many rumors of her impending marriage.

Rides Again

JACK BENNY
who stars in "The Big Broadcast of 1937" which will be shown at the Empress theatre for three days commencing Monday.

Playing in a Negro theatre in Baltimore, Rudi Waters, colored songstress, drew $9,700 into the box office in a week. The top price of seats was 40 cents.

Player, Identity Mistaken, Mails Woman's Bundle

In a city of inflated egos, Irving Bacon, Paramount character actor, should win a prize.

Leaving the studio in the regalia of a woman—the role he plays with Edward Everett Horton in "Let's Make a Million"—he was approached by an elderly woman with a large package.

"Oh, how lucky!" she exclaimed, thrusting the bundle into his arm. Without distinguishing her, he took it to the Hollywood post office.

Killed Often

George Bancroft, original "theman" of the screen, was "shot and killed" in eight of the 12 starring pictures he made. Bancroft now is with Edward Arnold in "John Meador's Women."

Four secretaries, working over time, barely can handle the fan mail now received by Robert Taylor.

Florence Rice, above, some day hopes to become more famous than her sports-writing father, Grantland Rice.

Eclairs, Not Pies, New Film Misses

Hollywood has gone astray.

In the golden days of the film industry when women were mighty and men were weak, the mighty wiles of the screen would take a tick in the face with a pie without a murmur.

But today, those veterans hang their heads in shame. Because Hollywood is now hurling chocolate eclairs.

It happened in "College Holiday," Grace Allen learns one. She recently admitted answers in Dan-Don-but they always understand each other.

Martha Raye has been nicknamed "Gale" because of her "Joe Brown" motif.

When Sonja Henie and Jean Herbohl reverse, Sonja uses Norwegian and Herbohl answers in Danish—but they always understand each other.

The Earl of Duddley, a close friend of King Edward, is reportedly envious of Franklyn, divorced wife of Franklyn's brother.

DR. DAFOE, real doctor for the Dionne quintuplets, will visit JEAN HERBOLD in his movie contract.

On moonlight nights Katherine Du Mille and Erik Rhodes go for horseback riding together. Some times they go when there is no moon.

Timmy Looch has been rewarded with a seven-year contract because of her success in "Garden of Allah."

LESLIE HOWARDS' 15-year-old daughter had a chance to star for Paramount but father said "no."

But regardless of all this, the industry continues to get her copy of 45 cents a copy.

5-YEAR-OLD IS HIT FOR STRAND

Appearing for the first time on a Canadian stage, five-year-old Patricia Lovey—and who is just at lovely as her name implies—made her debut at the Strand theatre.

Story Overworked

The life story of Edward Arnold, star of "College Holiday," has been written no less than thirty times, one for each picture he has appeared in since coming to Hollywood some five years ago, he said today.

When Harpo Marx was told there was a plot to steal his $12,000 harp he carried it home and used a rented one for rehearsals.

Leather heels have no place on Hollywood movie sets. Because the sound camera picks up the clicking of the leather type, all stars are required to wear rubber heels.

Hollywood film stars have traveled a total of $10,000 miles by air four times the distance to the moon since commercial flying began.

NATHANIEL CORNELIUS, who had looked auster at Hollywood in the past, sent a rush order for a movie makeup man recently to help her out of grassroots' troubles in a stage role.

Parties For Little Folk
Mark Holiday

Everyone knows that Christmas is the time when mothers and fathers and elder brothers and sisters fade into a pleasant background of tinsel, gifts, and trees—for Christmas is entirely the children's party—and the fact has certainly been recognized in Edmonton this week.

Little people at the Kiwanis Home for Children had a happy Christmas tree party on Tuesday evening when they each received two gifts one from the Kiwanis Club and one from the Women's Auxiliary. But that isn't all.

On Thursday evening the Women's Auxiliary arranged another affair at which gifts from their friends and their families, and a gift to each of them from members of First Presbyterian church Sunday school were presented. Antics of the old favorites, Punch and Judy kept them in its of merriment during the evening. On Christmas day they enjoyed a typical dinner, complete with ice cream and mince pies. Miss Isabel McCall, superintendent of the home, assisted with all arrangements.

A stocking, a toy and a personal gift were the three surprises Santa Claus had in store for each of 40 little children at the Edmonton Creche when he called at the party at which they were present with their mothers on Wednesday afternoon. He left packages to be sent to the homes of those who were absent, too. Lady Rodney, Mrs. William J. Dick and Mrs. W. D. Spence were among the board members present at the tea party. Mrs. Spence expressing their appreciation of the co-operation of the mothers and of the club—the White Circle, the Rotary and the Seneca—who assisted in arranging the affair. Gaily lighted Christmas trees, all shining and sparkling with many-colored baubles, and a jolly old Santa Claus, were attractive features of the happy party at which members of the Caledonian Society entertained their children on Friday evening of this week. Gifts were presented to each child and games were played. Assisting artists were Miss Doris Hollings, Miss Barbara Dain, Miss Ellen Holland, Miss Edith Johnston, Miss Aileen Scamell, Miss Shirley Armitage, Miss Dorothy McMurray, Mr. George Bennett, Mr. Alex Cockburn, Mrs. Marshall and her committee were in charge of arrangements.

Little pupils of the Loywood school, conducted by Mrs. T. Ingram had a gay time too when they entertained their mothers at a party on Wednesday. Games and songs were enjoyed.

Calendar

Monday—Kiwanians will have a musical program at their weekly meeting at the Macdonald hotel.

Tuesday—Gyro club, cancelling meeting for week. Compatriots will meet at the Coronas, guest speaker not yet announced.

Wednesday—Miss Shirley Armitage, Mrs. Marshall and her committee were in charge of arrangements.

Thursday—Little pupils of the Loywood school, conducted by Mrs. T. Ingram had a gay time too when they entertained their mothers at a party on Wednesday. Games and songs were enjoyed.

"Y" Notebook

There will be no basketball practice at the Y.W.C.A. until Wednesday December 30, it is announced. Mrs. H. Engley, Miss H. Keene, Mr. H. Reid and Mr. T. Harrison.

Miss Flora Carson has gone to Calgary to be the guest of her mother, Mrs. William Carson, until after the New Year.

Miss Margaret Scotland is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Scotland in Calgary.

Miss Elsie Gordon entertained members of the Dominion Club recently at her home at a delightful Christmas party. Arrangements were made for a party to be held in January and refreshments were served. Those present were Mrs. E. Thompson, Mrs. H. Gilmour, Mrs. V. Christie, Miss Dorothy Burney, Miss Miriam Carwell, Miss Doris Whitten and Mrs. E. Reynolds.

Many friends gathered at the jolly Christmas party held in All Saints Parish Hall, when members of the David's Welsh Church entertained. Mr. T. Parsons was awarded first prize in the amateur contest held during the evening. Winners in draws were Mrs. T. Ross, Mrs. M. Carrigan, Mr. E. Kendall, Mr. Kenneth Vashard, Mr. S. Rayner and Mr. K. Borge.

Mr. John McMillan and Miss Mary McMillan are spending Yuletide with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jeffery in London, Ontario.

Miss Florence Todd of Calgary, is in Edmonton over the Christmas weekend, the guest of her sister, Mrs. F. Stacey McCall. Miss Todd will return to Calgary in the middle of the week.

GOVERNMENT
IS CANCELLED

Owing to indisposition, His Honor Lieutenant Governor P. C. H. Primeau regrets exceedingly that he will be unable to hold the usual Levee at Government House on New Year's day.

Marian Gertrude Mgin, to Clarence Thompson of Vancouver, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thomas of Edmonton, the wedding to take place in the new year.

Mrs. David Milne and her family have come to Calgary to be the guest of Mrs. Milne's sister, Mrs. J. S. McMurray for the holiday season.

Mrs. Margaret Lewis and her daughter, Miss Margaret Lewis, of Calgary, are spending the holiday weekend in Edmonton.

Turkeys were the handsome prizes for which members of the J.H.R. Ladies' Auxiliary completed a subscription. The party arranged in the Buffalo Hall recently. More than 11 tables of cards were at play. A draw for turkeys was also conducted the whole proceeding devoted to a children's Christmas tree. Winners were Mr. George Richardson who donated his toward hampers for turkey families, Mrs. A. Stansbury, Mrs. A. Clarke, Mrs. J. Patterson.

T WAS the day after Christmas and all through the town not a person was stirring. . . . not anyone, that is, except the occasional mailman or a few early morning hours were almost deserted. . . . yet, almost, for coming toward us, stinging with evident relief, and weaving from side to side of the road was the solitary figure of a man. His progress was impeded, it seemed, by something he was towing toward him—a Christmas tree which he was clutching desperately by the topmost branch. "Baw," he accented us, what day is 't'is?" Our answer caused him considerable alarm and astonishment, for he blinked and ejaculated miserably, "Oh, my goodness. . . . and I was supposed to take this tree home to decorate for Christmas Eve."

A brighter side of the situation, striking him suddenly, however, he smiled with great satisfaction. "Hub, and they told me I couldn't find a Christmas tree after midnight!" Seizing the intense humor of the thing, he began to laugh loudly and long, and went away on his way wishing us a very merry Christmas—N.H.L.

BEFORE THE WHITE NIGHT
Charles Malan in the New York Sun.

The sun his visit makes more brief. All said with cold the daylight dies. The land in frozen ridges lies. Black fold on fold against the skies. The oak has left one parchment leaf.

Tonight, there is a smell of snow. But let us walk out once not clearing. One last night walk, and at the listening for that white silence near. And watch the last leaf slip and go.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE, Dec. 26—Mr. and Mrs. Neil Primrose have arrived from Vegreville to spend the holiday with His Honor the Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Primrose.

Premier William Aberhart and Mrs. Aberhart are spending the holiday in Vancouver, guests of their two daughters, Mrs. James M. Cooper and Mrs. Charles A. MacNutt and Mr. MacNutt.

Dr. Stephen Leacock is in Vancouver at present in the course of his lecture tour of the west.

Promising to be one of the most amply-attended affairs of a busy week is the formal party at which members of the Les Amies Dance Club will be hosts at the Macdonald hotel on Monday evening.

Mr. Harry E. White, of Edmonton, elder son of Mr. Harry White and the late Mrs. W. H. White of Vancouver, has been to Vancouver where his marriage to Margaret Turnbull, elder daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Walter S. Turnbull will be an event of social interest on Wednesday of next week.

Miss Patricia Sterns has come to Calgary to attend the wedding of Miss Helen Soren and Mr. Garfield Stewart of that city, which will take place in Knox church on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McCulloch have as their guest at present, Miss Margaret Thompson of Calgary.

Interesting to friends in Edmonton and at the Pacific coast is the announcement received from Mr. and Mrs. H. Lynn Lutz, of the engagement of their granddaughter,

Who's Who

Reading, naturally is Miss Zink's favorite occupation and she finds "reading her courses plenty to do" but for outside reading preference biography and fiction. She has drawn a lot of amateur writing herself and won first prize in the Junior Poetry Contest sponsored by the Edmonton Branch Canadian Authors' Association when she was fifteen years old.

Travelling is very exciting, Miss Zink finds, and while she has not travelled extensively as yet, she is looking forward to visiting many of the places she reads about. Miss Zink attends Robertson United Church.

Don't Let A Feeling Of Let-Down Get You After Christmas Day

Out-doors Offers Jolly Activities For Season's Holidays

THIS is the day after Christmas. Everyone is suffering from that let-down feeling. The excitement of yesterday has died away. The sun is shining and the expectation that the best of everyone kept up for weeks is over. All the presents have been opened. The excitement of yesterday's jubilation seems very far away today as bits of ribbon and colored cellophane litter the floor and the needles of the Christmas tree have begun to drip out. We all feel as though we had eaten too much turkey, candles, nuts and plum pudding. In other words, it is the day after Christmas and there comes nothing further to look forward to.

However, if we pause for a moment, we will realize that the bleak feeling we are experiencing is just an aftereffect of so much excitement. In reality much of the finest part of the Christmas season still lies ahead.

Best of all, Christmas holidays have just begun. There is still more than one week in which to enjoy life free from the cares of school. For the youngest children this week will be filled with skating, sleigh-riding, skiing and other jolly outdoor sports. For the older children, the week will be filled with the jolly outdoor sports. For the older children, the week will be filled with the jolly outdoor sports.

Older boys and girls too, will enjoy the pleasures of hunting and fishing during the holiday season. Many parties will be given to help raise money for the Red Cross. In the mountains and in the valleys, the joy of the hunt is being enjoyed.

E.C.D. FAMILIES, FRIENDS ENJOY CHRISTMAS PARTY

Santa Claus Visits Party Through Hole In The Roof

Playing a flying visit to the party, Santa Claus made a safe landing on the roof of the Edmonton City Hotel just as employees were attending the annual Christmas party.

During the evening a Pugh and Benjamine provided hilarious entertainment for the grown-ups as well as the youngsters present.

Mr. W. M. Prever, president of the firm, spoke of the delight it always gave him to attend the annual Christmas party.

Mr. Reynolds, general manager of the E.C.D. also gave a few words of welcome to the guests.

After the tree had been stripped of its decorations, the party was over.

The affair was sponsored by the E.C.D. recreational club and arranged by the executive which includes Mr. J. A. Anderson, F. J. Reynolds, H. Hopkins, L. Dangle, J. Turner, and C. Nixon.

NEWS ...

• The world's greatest news gathering agencies serve the Bulletin ... Canadian Press, British United Press, Associated Press, Havas Agency ... The far-reaching facilities of the Newspaper Enterprise Association, Central Press, Canadian and the Ledger News Syndicate are at the constant disposal of Bulletin editors. ... Special staff correspondents at Ottawa and in England watch every move for Bulletin readers. ... Exclusive correspondents in all important Canadian centres, as well as the news section of our own province, push their dispatches to the news room of the Bulletin where they are edited according to the Bulletin's high standard of what is news and how it should be presented.

FEATURES ...

• For the women—there are counselors, teachers, and trusted confidants on questions of family economics, beauty culture, housekeeping, health and baby care. ... Daily news from Edmonton's merchants that will save many dollars. ... To the men exclusive Bulletin features bring authoritative sport news, masterful comment on local, national and international affairs. ... Then, a wide range of powerful features to interest young and old alike including the choicest comics offered to newspaper readers anywhere.

EDITORIALS ...

• Free from the dead hand of the past ... unhampered by outside affiliations, Bulletin editors are guided only by the welfare of Bulletin readers. ... They write as they see it, free from domination of any kind. ... Bulletin editors are forever attacking those forces that threaten our modern civilization. ... Sager they are to champion any cause that will benefit our city, province or conditions at large. ... A relentless adversary of public plunderers, antiquated legislation, Bulletin editorials reflect the courage that has been necessary during its more than a half century of publishing in this community.

How to Shave With a Lumberjack's Ax—Today's Picture Story

"Wild Bill" Elmund, an Eatonville, Wash., lumber camp worker, was instructed when he heard that a movie troupe, on location in the north-west, had refused to believe lumberjacks often shave themselves with axes. So he grew this luxuriant batch of whiskers.

Then, as movie colony doubters, invited especially for the occasion, watched Elmund select his trusty shaving blade from his rack, and very carefully sharpened it down to an edge that would have delighted the thumb of any master barber.

Quickly Elmund applied the latter, and with deft hand, started the axe on its appointed round. Down each cheek, across the particular furrows around mouth and chin, the axe clipped whiskers with a thoroughness that astounded spectators.

The task finished, Elmund let his face speak for itself. Aside from a nick or two here and there, the shave never could be recognized as a home-made product. And Hollywood's scrooges, now converted, agreed they had "taken it on the chin."

BULL HOLDS UP ISLAND TRAFFIC

SANGRE GRANDE, Trinidad, Dec. 26.—It took a well-thrown lance to untangle a traffic-jam on the Sangre Grande-Matrua road after a bull had escaped from a nearby field.

The bull held up pedestrians for several hours as it stood in the middle of the narrow road, charging anyone to advance. James Chiles of Matrua accepted the challenge and received three broken bones and a number of bruises. Finally someone thought of the lance and the bull was recaptured and led back to its field.

Killed On Jubilee Of Former Escapee

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, Dec. 26.—Cheated once, death came back six years later to the day and claimed Princess Simon, native woman of Barbis in this colony.

On Christmas day, 1930, she was struck by a man, swiftness, and she was killed. The skill of a resident surgeon at the Barbis hospital was credited with saving her life.

Exactly six years later, she and a nephew, Eberhard Simon, were cutting down a wallah tree using a cross-cut saw. They had aimed a cut of wind struck the tree and sent it crashing to the ground. The nephew was only slightly injured but the woman died in Barbis hospital 12 hours later.

JAIL SERVES MOOSE STEAK

MONCTON, N.B., Dec. 26.—They serve moose steak to prisoners in the city jail here—if the prisoners bring the meat with them and do the cooking.

A Moncton resident returned from a hunting trip with three pounds of moose steak. His wife refused to cook it for him on the grounds he was drunk, and he left home, still clutching the venison. Police officers, after a short time later, agreed with his wife's diagnosis of his condition and he landed in the cells.

The following morning, a sober and hungry prisoner looked long-

Fireworks Blast Is Fatal To Two

ASHEVILLE, N.C., Dec. 26.—Mr. Maud Stepp and "Red" Corn, 30, were killed and ten other persons injured Thursday night during a series of explosions in a midtown fireworks store. Heat of a charcoal stove apparently caused the explosion.

Fireworks are used extensively throughout the south in Christmas celebrations. Those who reached the street were blasted out of the place. A man was blown through a large plate glass window.

Only at his three pounds of moose steak. Police officers sympathized with him in his plight, a fellow-prisoner volunteered to eat it with him and everybody joined in the celebration.

HORNS LOCKED IN DEATH GRIP

GLENNHURST, N.S., Dec. 26.—Mute evidence of a titanic struggle that ended in death for both combatants, two buck deer have been found in the woods near here, their horns locked in an unbreakable grip.

Found by a party of Stellanor, N.S. hunters, the deer apparently starved to death as they lay on the ground, unable to regain their footing or to shake loose their antlers.

Turn-up ground in the vicinity gave evidence of their futile attempts.

Each deer, it seemed, would weigh around 200 pounds. The hunt was said. Each had 12 antler points.

Christmas Mass Is Disrupted By Fire

GERALDTON, Ont., Dec. 26.—Fire disrupted Christmas mass in St. Theresa Roman Catholic church here early yesterday. Police started investigation of reports the blaze was set by criminal hands.

The flames in the rear vestibule were extinguished before much damage was done.

Most intense concentration of artillery fire in history occurred during the battle of St. Mihiel, in the World War, when a million artillery shells were fired in four hours.

One with a 20-inch spread and the other with 18. According to Chief Ranger H. J. Chaboud of Westville, they had been fired four or five days when discovered.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

by WILLIAM VERGUSO

1 OUR YEAR

ON JANUARY FIRST, A NEW YEAR BEGINS ON OUR EARTH! BUT IT TOOK MANY CENTURIES TO FIND OUT JUST HOW LONG A YEAR SHOULD BE! AS WE KNOW, A YEAR IS THE TIME REQUIRED FOR THE EARTH TO MAKE ONE TRIP AROUND THE SUN... WHICH IS A JOURNEY OF SOMETHING LIKE 584,000,000 MILES.

ANCIENT ASTRONOMERS FOUND TWO METHODS OF DETERMINING THE LENGTH OF A YEAR... EITHER BY FINDING THE INTERVAL BETWEEN TWO PASSAGES OF THE SUN PAST THE SAME STAR, OR BY FINDING THE INTERVAL BETWEEN TWO PASSAGES OF THE SUN ACROSS THE SAME EQUINOX, OR CELESTIAL EQUATOR. BUT THE TWO METHODS DO NOT GIVE THE SAME LENGTH OF TIME! A LONGER PERIOD IS REQUIRED FOR THE SUN TO MAKE THE PASSAGE OF THE STARS.

THEN IT WAS DISCOVERED THAT THE EARTH WABBLES ON ITS AXIS, THEREBY CAUSING THE EQUINOXES TO SHIFT IN THEIR POSITIONS AMONG THE STARS.

THE EQUINOCTIAL YEAR, KNOWN AS THE TROPICAL YEAR, WAS ADOPTED, SINCE OUR SEASONS DEPEND ON THE SUN'S POSITION NORTH AND SOUTH OF THE EQUATOR. THE LENGTH OF THIS PERIOD WAS FOUND TO BE 365 DAYS, 5 HOURS, 48 MINUTES AND 46 SECONDS.

THE JULIAN CALENDAR, WORKED OUT PARTIALLY BY JULIUS CAESAR, IN 46 B.C., CONSIDERED THE YEAR TO BE EXACTLY 365 1/4 DAYS, THIS BEING ABOUT ELEVEN MINUTES LONGER THAN THE TROPICAL YEAR, CAUSED THE SEASONS TO CREEP SLOWLY AHEAD AS THE CENTURIES PASSED.

IN 1582, THE GREGORIAN CALENDAR, DEVISED BY POPE GREGORY XIII, CAME INTO USE. TEN DAYS WERE ANNULLED, TO GET THE SEASONS BACK IN THEIR PROPER PLACES, AND THREE OF THE LEAP YEARS WHICH OCCUR IN 400 YEARS WERE CHANGED TO COMMON YEARS.
